ABOUT PHILLIP ISLAND NATURE PARKS

Phillip Island Nature Parks was created by the State Government of Victoria in 1996 and comprises over 1,980 hectares of Crown Land set aside under the Crown Land (Reserves) Act 1978

“for the conservation of areas of natural interest or beauty or of scientific, historic or archaeological interest.”

As part of the UNESCO Western Port Biosphere Reserve, Phillip Island Nature Parks encompasses wildlife sanctuaries, wetlands, woodlands and breathtaking coastlines, which are protected and managed by world-renowned environmental and research programs.

Habitat within Phillip Island Nature Parks supports significant populations of little penguins, hooded plovers, short-tailed shearwaters and other international migratory bird species, and mammals such as koalas, possums, wallabies, Australian fur seals, bats, and Eastern barred bandicoots.

Also under the protection of Nature Parks is a range of plant communities including more than 330 native species.

Phillip Island Nature Parks is an advanced ecotourism destination. Dedicated to quality ecotourism experiences and wildlife management, Nature Parks features the highest number of Advanced Ecotourism accredited types of tours of any tourism operator in Victoria.

Phillip Island Nature Parks is a self-funded organisation. Revenue generated through ecotourism activities is invested into vital conservation, research, and education programs.

We acknowledge the Traditional Owners of the land on which we live, work and learn, the Bunurong. We pay our respects to their Elders past and present.

PENGUIN FOUNDATION

Priority projects include protecting our marine and coastal environment, future-proofing penguin health, rewilding the Island's flora, and saving threatened species from extinction. These projects are aligned with the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals, which define global sustainable development priorities and aspirations for 2030 and serve as a universal framework to foster global collaboration to solve the world's most challenging tasks in sustainability.

Currently, the Penguin Foundation is funding important research to investigate and identify the risk of four key infectious diseases in the populations of little penguins at Phillip Island and St Kilda in Port Phillip Bay. These diseases are avian malaria, avian flu, avian pox, and avian cholera.

Donors kindly contribute to this work through the Giving Programs, including Adopt a Penguin and other wildlife. Support is also provided through grants, corporate partnerships, events, corporate team days and bequests.

Since its establishment in 2005, the Penguin Foundation has raised over AU $2.5 million.

Visit penguinfoundation.org.au for more information.

FILMING & PHOTOGRAPHY AT PHILLIP ISLAND NATURE PARKS

A film permit is required for all commercial photography and filming at Phillip Island Nature Parks.

To obtain a permit, please visit penguins.org.au to apply online.

Filming or photography is rarely permitted at night along the boardwalks at the Penguin Parade due to wildlife considerations and low light conditions.

Media are strongly encouraged to use the high-quality stock footage and photos available for use without charge.

IMAGE & FOOTAGE LIBRARY

High resolution images, HD and SD footage are available to download for use by media.
